

2017 Maine Sustainability & Water Conference

Thursday, March 30, Augusta Civic Center

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Aram Calhoun, Wildlife Ecologist, UMaine

Conserving Pools and Watersheds: Spanning and matching of scales

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

- Maine's Changing Foodscape
- Waste: Divert everything...but your attention!
- Understanding Lake Tipping Points
- Circa 1971: Efficacy of Shoreland Zoning
- Repairing Maine's "Open Sewers": Historical Reflections
- To Green or Not to Green? Municipal infrastructure needs
- Rain and Tides - Addressing planning & mitigation in an age of unpredictable water
- Understanding & Managing Land-Sea Connections
- Advancing Solutions to Ocean and Coastal Acidification
- Cyanotoxin – Phytoplankton's Revenge
- Contaminants in Maine Waters
- Integrating Wetland Conservation and Land-use Planning
- Climate Action under Current Conditions

POSTER SESSION

The juried poster competition will include graduate, undergraduate and high-school judging categories.

For more information & to register: umaine.edu/mitchellcenter

